

Activity: In and Out

What You Need:

Muffin tin, small age appropriate toys

What To Do:

This is the perfect age to let your baby start putting things into containers. Give your baby a basket of small toys and show them how to put things in and take them out of the muffin containers. This would be a good time to have conversations about putting things “in” and then taking them “out”.

What Is Your Baby Learning?

Language Development
Fine Motor Skills

Take It Further:

Take this further by giving your baby two objects and telling them to put a specific one into the muffin tin. “Put the dog into the tin.” Or, use toys of only one color and comment about the color throughout the activity. “Look at the yellow duck going in the muffin tin!”
